Some may call Michele Zinser, the queen of canine clean, but for the dogs at the Arizona Animal Welfare League & SPCA (AAWL/SPCA), Michele means something else. She is the owner of Sudz 'n Style and is providing her services to the state's largest no-kill animal shelter to make the pups that are up for adoption look their very best.

According to Tina Eacret, Director of Volunteer Services and Special Events for the AAWL/SPCA, "A clean, well-groomed dog has a much better chance of being adopted." And who doesn't want to look their very best when trying to find a new forever home?

Michele has been volunteering at the AAWL/SPCA since June and makes it a priority to be at the AAWL/SPCA shelter every Wednesday. On her web page, she is posting 'before and after' photos of the AAWL/SPCA dogs and thoroughly enjoys changing a scruffy mutt into a styled, pampered pooch.

Michele is also participating in a national challenge for groomers to donate services to animal shelters during October, and the contest could win one groomer a $5,000 prize. The "Mobile Grooming for a Cause" campaign is coordinated by Wag'n Tails Mobile Conversions of Granger, IN, the company that manufactured Zinser's mobile grooming van. Like Zinser, most of Wag 'n Tails' 1500 van owners are participating in Mobile Grooming for a Cause all across the country.

This contest is being held in conjunction with the American Society for Prevention of Cruelty to Animals (ASPCA) and the American Humane Association campaign known as "Adopt a Shelter Dog Month" during October.

Sudz'n Style will make an appointment on line or you can reach Michele at 480-392-0011
